

Calmly — mental wellness for everyone

Stress and anxiety affect a huge number of people, and existing solutions are either too expensive or too generic.

Calmly is an app that helps people feel better through guided sessions, mood tracking and daily practices. It is designed to be simple and calming to use.

We believe wellness should be accessible to everyone, and we are building Calmly to make that possible.

We are looking for funding to build the product and grow the team.